

Claire Lobdell
LFI Week 1
Personal Course Goals

1. Enjoy being a student again!
2. Move past my imposter syndrome feelings about these issues to a place where I can feel competent teaching about privacy.
3. Cultivate relationships with folks in my library consortium (to start), as well as people and organizations outside the library sphere who could benefit from some of this (e.g. Safe Passage, Senior Centers, PV Workers Center, K-12 school districts).
4. Support and develop a collaborative relationship with our awesome new CIO.
5. Reflect on my experience as an online student in order to better support the online students I work with.
