

Josh Stone
LFI – Week 1
Personal Goals

Five personal goals for this course:

1. Learn more about the technology used to protect user privacy
2. Connect and build relationships with other library privacy advocates
3. Learn techniques to teach and explain the complexities of both the technology and rationale behind privacy tools
4. Create a workshop that I can offer to our member libraries
5. Learn tips to engage with elected officials regarding online privacy in public libraries
