

Bryan Jones
LFI Week 1

Five personal goals:

- 1) Create better relationships with activists and community organizers in my city. The folks who come to my privacy workshops are mostly older white people, which is cool and they seem to get a lot out of it, but I would like to reach more people.
- 2) Ensure patron privacy is part of every vendor contract my library signs.
- 3) Learn to better express why privacy matters, not only in libraries, but politically and socially more than ever.
- 4) Install Tor relays in public libraries in Tennessee.
- 5) Get inspired and stay motivated. Sometimes it feels like an uphill battle.

BONUS:

- Learn to use containers / Docker
- Successfully setup a Yubikey for OTP with KeepassXC
